

JBBA Ambassador Responsibilities and Expectations

The primary responsibility of a Junior Beefmaster Breeders Association (JBBA) ambassador is to serve JBBA in local, regional, state and national activities. Ambassadors should serve in a manner that will inform, motivate, educate, promote and inspire current and potential JBBA/BBU members and others to achieve the purpose, values and goals of the Beefmaster association. JBBA ambassadors serve as role models and youth leaders. Therefore, it is imperative that ambassadors strive to conduct themselves in a professional, friendly and respectful manner at all times.

By making the commitment to become a JBBA ambassador candidate, it is agreed by both the junior member and parent(s) that JBBA responsibilities will be given top priority.
